

Job Description

POSITION TITLE:	Downstream Specialist Code : 6.1.4.
DEPARTMENT:	Hydrocarbon Studies Unit
REPORTS TO:	Head HSU

JOB HIGHLIGHTS

To collect and study data and information related to the developments in the refining, petrochemical and oil and gas transportation/distribution sectors; to assess the implications of technological advances, environmental policies and other relevant developments for the downstream sector.

PRINCIPAL RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Studies and analyses developments in refining, petroleum products quality specifications, products trade, crude and products transportation, petrochemicals, downstream investments.
2. Studies and assesses the technological, environmental, political and other relevant developments for the downstream oil industry and assesses their implications.
3. Monitors and analyses investments and processing costs and strategies in the downstream sector.
4. Coordinates the collection, processing and analyses of data required for conducting studies.
5. Carries out any other tasks assigned by the relevant superiors.

REQUIREMENTS

Qualification: University degree in Refining, Petroleum Marketing, Energy Economics or related Sciences.

Experience: minimum of five (5) years post qualification experience in related fields in an international/national or private oil company, or government agency.

TRAINING SPECIALIZATIONS:

- Excellent knowledge of planning and analysis of downstream activities is essential.
- Good knowledge of the environmental impact of downstream activities is desirable.

NB: Age range is from 35 to 55 years old.