

ECONOMICS ANALYST(EA)

|   |                           |                                |  |
|---|---------------------------|--------------------------------|--|
| Job Code:  | 03.1.4                    | Minimum qualification : | University degree in Petroleum Economics with advanced Degree preferred  |
| Title (Accronym) :   | ECONOMICS ANALYST(EA)     | Experience :            | Minimum of 10 years post qualification experience in Economics analysis and research with a good knowledge of the Oil and Gas industry |
| Job Group :  | II                        | Category :              | 3  |
| Reporting Authority :  | HEAD, ENERGY STUDIES UNIT | Age Limit:              | 55   |
| Duration of Term : THREE YEARS RENEWABLE ONCE  |                           |                                |  |
| Overall role: Collect and analyse information and indicators pertinent to APPO MCs, Africa and the world economic activities and performance with a focus on sectorial economic developments, trade, prices and growth and produce analytic reports on the economic developments in the relevant countries and regions.  |                           |                                |  |
| Responsibility : <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Study, analyse and report developments in countries and regional economic activities and development.</li> <li>2. Study and assess leading indicators in trade, investment and commodity prices and their implication on the oil &amp; gas and energy supply and demand, and economic growth and diversification.</li> <li>3. Prepare economic outlook for MCs and other African states.</li> <li>4. Ensure economic studies are relevant to the division's activities and work program.</li> <li>5. Coordinate the collection, processing and analysis of data required for conducting studies.</li> <li>6. Carry out any other tasks assigned by the relevant superiors.</li> </ol> |                           |                                |  |